Where the past meets the future

ISPPD Shines in Cancun

After a 30 hour journey with multiple transits, we landed in the warm and vibrant city of Cancun in Latin American country of Mexico. It was the grand occasion of 27th IAPD Conference 2019. These conferences are very special because we see culmination of young minds, experienced Pediatric Dentists and renowned stalwarts from all over the world. The scientific program forms the backbone of any conference and this conference had such a huge list to chose.

There have been a number of ISPPD members who regularly participate in IAPD conferences. This year was special because we had a huge contingent of 24, who were connected to each other through social media. The warmth of our group was even recognised by the chairman of this conference Dr Marc Saadia.

The Inauguration of 27th IAPD Conference was a grand ceremony with some traditional Mexican cultural programs. The Indian contingent had decided to wear traditional attire for this function and this was greatly appreciated by the organising committee and several attending members and presentation of Secretary's report by Dr Ari Kupetzky. This was followed by "Member Society's Roll call" in alphabetical order. The members of the respective societies are supposed to stand up and waive in the audience. As the Indian Society for Pedodontics and Preventive Dentistry flashed on screen, all the Indians cheered and waived the Tricolor flags. This ceremony also brought shine to ISPPD with announcement of Colgate BSBF Award for 2019. We are proud to inform that Prof Krishan Gauba (PGI, Chandigarh) and Prof Mridula Goswami (MAIDS, New Delhi) were awarded as finalists. The winner of this category was Dr Andreas Agouropoulos from Greece. It ended with an extempore dance performance by all the members of Mexican society of Pediatric Dentistry.

Following days marked the lectures by renowned faculty on topics of ECC, Stem Cell, Special care dentistry, orthodontics, MIH, aesthetic dentistry, cone beam CT, dental traumatology, pulp therapy, revascularisation and zirconia crowns. We participated actively in all the lectures and symposia as per our research and clinical interests. It was heartening to see halls full of delegates even on the last day of the conference. This year we saw large number of invitations for guest lectures to ISPPD stalwarts. We had Prof Shobha Tandon, Prof Ashima Goyal, Prof Vijay Mathur, Prof Prasad Musale and Dr Abhinav Talekar lecturing in different topics. We had the first ever Traumatic Dental Injuries- Indian Scenario with lectures by Prof Shobha Tandon, Prof Divya Sharma, Prof Mridula Goswami and Dr Nitesh Tewari.

The Social program of IAPD included one Inaugural party, Banquet and a beach party. It was all interesting and enriched in the Mexican spirits. These meetings helps us meet people whom we read in text books, articles or more recently on social media. We met many of them and made new friends for future. Indian contingent met up for an informal dinner in “Mextreme Diner” to take a break from the hectic scientific meeting on 5th July. It was also a cherished opportunity to have affectionate interactions with IAPD stalwarts of Indian origin Dr Soni Stephen, Dr Tarun Walia and Dr Mala Desai

The closing ceremony was preceded by global forum with participation of regional associations like American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry, Pediatric Dentistry Association of Asia, African Association of Pediatric Dentistry, European Association of Pediatric Dentistry and Latin American society of Pediatric Dentistry. Their Presidents discussed the status of pediatric dentistry and global challenges for improving the oral health of children. Closing ceremony was marked by speeches by outgoing president of IAPD Dr Anna Maria Vierrou, Felicitation of outgoing IAPD Board, Welcome of new IAPD president Dr Marcelo Bonecker and announcement of new board. There were announcements of IAPD awards and Indian contingent was shining again with Dr Nitesh Tewari, AIIMS, New Delhi winning the prestigious Jens Ove Andreasen Award for best poster in dental traumatology.

The first Inhalation Sedation Centre in Madhya Pradesh.

The Department of Pedodontics and Preventive Dentistry in the People's College of Dental Sciences, methodically and victoriously conducted a CDE on Inhalation Sedation on 24th, 25th and 26th of July 2019. The organising chairman Dr. Parimala Tyagi and her team, organised this tutoring programme for a span of 3 days. The first day comprised of a grand inaugural ceremony and the inauguration of the Sedation Centre(DCI Recognized) in PCDS & RC (People's University), the first in Madhya Pradesh, by Dr. Rahul Hegde, MEMBER DCI who was invited as the chief guest to grace the occasion. The inaugural ceremony was followed by lecture sessions by Dr. Radhika Muppa and Dr. Kunal Gupta. It was the first ever CDE programme on Inhalation sedation that organised a hands on where the delegates got individual patients to work on and accomplish dental procedures under the effect of nitrous oxide. Hands on training was given by Dr. Kunal Gupta. His meticulous handling of the set up and excellent mentoring ability made the training programme very effective and successful.
